

Prodigal

Like a wayward child I wandered
From my Father's heart
But I heard his voice calling me
Now I'm coming home

I want to be close to You
I just can't live without You
I'm running, running
Running to His open arms

I have wandered in the darkness
And my path was so alone
But I knew my Father's eyes were on me
So now I'm coming home

I'm turning back to my Father's heart
There I'll be forever, and ever
